Three Skeletons Smoldering in Lake of Petroleum

CORSICANA, Texas — (Associated Press)—Thirteen identified bodies, three skeletons smoldering in a grim well pit, and possibly a score of others to be uncovered mark a tally of death wrought late yesterday by the explosion of the giant gusher of the J. K. Hughes Development Company (McKie No. 1 well).

The huge producer, which came in late Tuesday, flowing 15,000 barrels of pipe line oil, is a veritable funeral pyre. Charred, twisted, mangled bodies remain while the well burns, consuming the complete flow, and two million feet of gas as when it first ignited. The flames mounted to 300 feet and lighted the sky for fifty miles.

The known dead are:
W. A. Hicks, Wortham, Texas, head driller for the development company.

S. P. Allen, Corsicana, field superintendent for the company, who recently brought in one of the country's greatest high grade oil producers in the Currie field.

M. O. Turner, Norris, Miss.; Ban Phillips, James Phillips, Max Melner, J. C. Cook and Travis Owens, Kerens, Texas; Jack Cooper, Fred Craig, E. C. Cooper and Emmet Byrd, Corsicana; L. P. Sheek, Dallas.

HEROIC RESCUE WORK

When the blast came, sixteen, it is known, of the fifty-odd men in the two crews and a connecting gang, were sucked into the sheet of flame.

Ten men escaped by running thru oil knee deep, some distance from the well and falling flat.

Elvis Hammel, drilling contractor, and E. W. Quintan and James Meeks, scouts, with others, did heroic rescue work. Quintan, decorated by the British government with the Victoria cross and by the French with the Medaille Militaire, during the war, inhaled so much smoke that he could not speak above a whisper today. He was rescued by others.

About 600 persons watching the work of the drilling crews gave incoherent accounts of the flare-up, none being certain how the fire started, but all testified to the huge volume of smoke which rose, filled and hid the oil-soaked derrick.

L. C. Cook, head driller of one of the crews was seen to dash away and jump into some water nearby. He died on the way to the hospital.

Six of the bodies are being held by an undertaker company here. Three unidentified bodies reduced to skeletons are smoldering in a lake of oil surrounding the well, which caught fire from the gas flame coming from the well. The woods for 200 yards around are burned to stumps.

Confusion is everywhere. Steady unbroken streams of automobiles keep coming. While operations in the oil field have not been suspended hundreds of workers have crowded to the tragic scene.

Some of the crowd which was relieving the day crew at the well had just come from Mexico, a few hours before. Other members of that and a roustabout crew, working in the vicinity of the well, were reported missing in the general confusion and the personnel list makes it impossible to ascertain just how many are dead, missing and unaccounted for, Hughes said.

Train Run by French Plunges Into the Rhine

BERLIN — (Associated Press)—A telegram from Saint Goar, Rhineland Prussia says that a train operated by the French plunged into the Rhine, and that 29 bodies have so far been recovered from the wreck.

The report is based on the statements of travelers arriving at Saint Goar who add that the French have cut off access to the scene of the accident.

SHIRKE CALLED

BERLIN — (Associated Press)—The German government has sent a note to the powers having no part in the Ruhr occupation protesting against the Werdn court-martial which resulted in the conviction of Dr. Krupp Von Bohlen and other Krupp officials.

The note accuses the French of making the blowing of the sirens the basis of "a senseless charge that a secret plot was being engineered against the French troops, with the object of shifting responsibility for the murder of fourteen workers to the Germans."

The note adds that the French had never objected to the sounding of the signals and says that "in view of an atonement for the crime against the workers there has been a fresh crime in the falsification of the facts."

As a protest against the sentence of the Werdn court-martial the Essen local union committees have appealed for a complete cessation of work tomorrow, requesting that shops and restaurants be closed and that all street traffic be suspended.

MAYOR'S BOOKS DECLARED SHORT

Charges Made Against Executive of Silver Lake

EXAMINER REPORTS ON AUDIT

Official Accused of Illegal Payments to Dry Court

COLUMBUS — (United Press)—Over-zealous mayors who ignore other statutes in the Ohio code in order to enforce the Crabbie act against prohibition law violators were denounced by State Examiner H. D. Defenbacher in a report on the office of Mayor William R. Lodge, Silver Lake, Summit-co, filed with State Auditor Tracy today.

The audit of finances of this mayor's court bristled with alleged illegal payments made by him to attorneys of his "dry court" which, according to the report, was sustained by Crabbie-act violators from Akron, "more than six miles away."

In addition to these, there was sharp criticism of the way the mayor handled collections from his court. A finding of $1,503 was made against Lodge by the examiner, who alleged that undistributed collections exceed the total cash available on record.

When Defenbacher made his audit, he says there was more than $8,000 due the state and village of which more than $6,500 represented collections prior to January 1, 1923. The report goes back to September, 1921.

METHOD OF BANKING

The mayor, according to the report, deposited his court collections in his personal account with the Falls Banking and Trust Company of Cuyahoga Falls and issued personal and official checks out of this. Lodge's account is $650 short of the amount required to meet his court obligations the audit shows.

In addition to these criticisms, Defenbacher cited alleged illegal payments made by the mayor to deputy marshals amounting to $12,537.

These marshals, he said, used their own automobiles for court transportation in many instances and early in the period covered, charged from $5 to $8 for each trip. Later on the charges soared near $20 he reports. There is no legal authority for this, the examiner states.

Further, Defenbacher reports, the mayor employed an attorney to prosecute cases in his court at $15 for each conviction. As a result of this a finding of $4,010 is made against Attorney Merle Pudy.

Notwithstanding this, "special counsel" and the expense for his services, the examiner reports that about 65 per cent of fines assessed were suspended, and of the 35 per cent only about one half was collected.

During one year $238,856 was assessed in fines and costs while collections for this period were $59,338 and $217,529 was suspended, according to the audit.

WORTHLESS CHECKS

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)—Among total findings of $1,394.23 against officials and private citizens in favor of the treasury of Trumbull-co, made in a report filed today by State Examiner Karl B. Dodge, is a total of $1,084 representing worthless checks accepted by the county treasurer in payment of taxes. The treasurer is instructed to make good the amount until it can be collected. The report

WAITED FOR KING BEN 25 YEARS

Ex-Wife Tells Dramatic Story of Relations With Purnell

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio — (United Press)—A dramatic story of how she waited 25 years for "King" Benjamin Purnell, "abducted" ruler of the House of David, to return to their "humble" home in Greenup, Ky., was related in an interview here today by Mrs. Angelina Stephens, his former wife. Purnell divorced Mrs. Stephens in a little town in Indiana nearly 30 years ago after he had become enamored of Mary Stallard, Mrs. Stephens charged.

"I always thought Ben would come back to me," she said today. "I waited 25 years for him. Then two years ago, I married again. Ben didn't have any unusual ideas about religion when he lived with me and had we remained together, I know he wouldn't have been in all this trouble."

Mrs. Stephens said she did not remember the grounds on which their divorce was granted, but that she was certain Benjamin's religion had nothing to do with it.

Ben drove a huckster wagon in Greenup.

"Mary was a flapper in her day," Mrs. Stephens said, "and I think she just wanted Ben away from me."

Several times after the divorce and before the Benton Harbor cult was started Purnell returned to visit his former wife for a few days at a time, she said.

"Every time he came back I thought he was going to stay. Once, I remember, he got up and left in the middle of the night."

"We had a little girl and Ben was very fond of her."

Mrs. Stephens said she had not heard from Ben for almost ten years.

UNION ASKS FAIR PLAY FOR ROADS

Chief Makes Plea to Business Men of Nation

FAVOR PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

Continued Regulation Means Ruin, Speaker Declares

NEW YORK — (Associated Press)—An appeal to American business men to help railroad owners and employees put the nation's transportation system back on its feet was uttered before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today by W. N. Doak, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Railroad labor does not favor federal ownership, control or operation of the lines, Doak asserted. It is interested in seeing them successfully operated by private owners and put on a sound financial basis so that the worker will know "his wages will be fair, his conditions of employment wholesome, that he is secure in his opportunity to lay away something for sickness or old age."

"Let us learn to live and let live by treating the railroads fairly, by being fair to capital, fair to labor, by being fair to ourselves," he said. "Be not deceived into the belief that we can starve the railroads, speculate in them to the dangerous degree, wreck their credits, pay inadequate wages to management and employees, and expect a healthy transportation system."

HAIS FOR POLICY

He said one reason rail unions did not want government ownership was because it would bring the total government payroll to 400,000, representing 2,000,000 persons. Thus, he said, each five persons in the country would be supporting one federal dependent and "adding to an already overstocked profession."

He asserted that the management and workers were on good terms and preferred to settle their occasional differences around the conference table, despite general reports to the contrary. Continued regulation meant ruin, he said.

"Business men of America, will you not stop, look and listen for once and see where we are going?" urged Doak.

"Change methods of taking sides with the railroads when the employees ask for increase in wages; stop taking sides with the farmers, shippers and others when the railroads desire adequate compensation; stop listening to idle gossip to the effect that railroads are their federal dependent and 'adding to an already overstocked profession.'"

OFFICIALS SPLIT FRUIT HARD HIT ON DRY LAW BY FREEZE

Mellon and Haynes Differ as to Gloomy Reports in Allen-co—'Apple King' Optimistic

WASHINGTON — (United Press)—A disagreement over prohibition enforcement which the supreme court and congress will be called on to settle has developed between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Mellon regards as illogical and improper provision of law limiting the amount of liquor doctors may prescribe for their patients. He believes congress either did not intend arbitrarily to put a drastic limitation on doctors, or that if it had, that intention it was wrong.

Haynes replies to such arguments that it is the law and has to be enforced, no matter whether it is illogical or not.

This disagreement was brought to light by the action of Judge Knox in New York yesterday in granting an injunction to prevent prohibition authorities interfering with a doctor in the prescribing of liquor. That decision, by taking off the limit entirely from doctors, left them free, in Mellon's opinion, to prescribe all the liquor they think necessary.

Haynes takes an entirely opposite view. He warns doctors today that no one but the individual doctor in New York who used was freed by the Knox injunction from the law's limitations.

At once a race began between Haynes and Mellon to uphold their distinct and clashing views. Haynes and his legal staff will carry an appeal to the supreme court and ask for speedy decision of the point, which may prove vital to successful prohibition enforcement.

Mellon, at the same time, began preparations of new regulations, starting in effect to doctors that their license should in future guide them in prescribing liquor.

Vast Holdings of Lima Millionaire to be Divided

DOCUMENT IS NOT INVOLVED

Estimate of Value of Property Not Given

Will of the late William L. Russell, millionaire oil and real estate operator, who died April 23, filed for probate shortly after 2 p. m. Thursday, bequeaths the entire estate, one of the largest, if not the largest private estates in Lima, to the widow, Beatrice Klug Russell, with the exception of $25,000, each, for two sons, an annuity for Russell's mother, and $1,000 each, to six other relatives.

No estimate of the value of the vast holdings of Russell is given in the will. The value of the estate has been variously estimated between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

No conditions attach to the bequest of the property to Mrs. Russell. Under the will she is to have full control of the property and manage and handle it as she desires.

GETS ALL PROPERTY

The property bequeathed to Mrs. Russell includes the home at 649 W. Market-st., all holdings, stocks, bonds, real estate and personal property. Charles D. Russell and William H. Russell, sons are bequeathed $25,000 each, payable a year after the filing of the will.

An income of $150 monthly from the estate is provided for Anna Elizabeth Russell, mother, for the rest of her life.

Bequests of $1,000 each were made to James Townsend Russell and A. H. Russell, brothers; Flora A. Bush and Adeline Bolwell, sisters; Olive Chenoweth, sister-in-law, and Sarah B. King, mother-in-law.

Mrs. Russell and the Lima Trust Co. are named executors of the document, which was signed by Russell October 6, 1922.

The will, while comparatively long, is clear and does not involve.

HARDING'S COURT PLAN OPPOSED

Women's Clubs Favor Entrance of U. S., However

ATLANTA, Ga. — (Associated Press)—Declaring she "would not stand for the federation endorsing President Harding's proposal for American participation in the world court of international justice," Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, said today that the resolution on this subject agreed on by the resolutions committee probably would be modified so as to make clear that the principle was endorsed and not any specific proposal.

Mrs. Winter explained that while she personally favored American participation in a world court, she would endeavor to have the resolution so worded that no charge of partisan politics could be brought against the federation.

The resolution as agreed on by the committee yesterday did not mention President Harding or his proposal, but some leaders informally pointed out that the recommendation of the president along this line is the only one before the country.

"FLOWING GOLD": FIRST INSTALLMENT OF THRILLING NEW NOVEL FOR READERS OF NEWS

By REX BEACH

CHAPTER I

The Governor's Suite

Room service at the Ajax is of a quality befitting the newest, the largest, and the most expensive hotel in Dallas. While the standard of excellence is uniformly high, nevertheless some extra care usually attaches to a breakfast ordered from the Governor's suite—most elegant and most expensive of all the suites—hence the waiter checked over his card and made a final, fluttering examination to be sure that the chilled fruit was chilled and that the hot plates were hot before he rapped on the door. A voice, loud and cheery, bade him enter.

The pajama-clad guest cast a hungry eye over the contents of the rubber-tired breakfast table. He too, tested the temperature of the melon and felt the cover of the toast plate.

"Splendid!" he cried. "Nice rooms, prompt service, a pleasant-faced waiter. Why, I couldn't fare better in my best club. Thanks to you, my first impression of Dallas is wholly delightful." He seated himself in a padded boudoir chair, unfolded a snowy serviette and at-

"IS THIS YOUR FIRST VISIT HERE, SIR?"

With the money-making instinct and that you unerringly recognize it in others. Very well, I shall see what I can do for you. But while we are on the subject of tips, would you mind helping yourself to a dollar out of my trousers pocket?"

The waiter proceeded to do as directed, but a moment later announced, apologetically: "Here's all I find, sir. It's mostly pennies." He exposed a handful of small coins.

"Look in my coat, if you will."

But the second search resulted in had the first. "Strenuous" murmured the guest, without rising. "I must have been robbed. I remember now, a fellow crowded me as I left my train. Um-m! Robbed at the very gates of Baghdad! Dallas is a City of Adventure. Please add your tip to the check, and—make it two dollars. I'd like to have you serve me every morning, for I cannot abide an acid face at breakfast. It ruins my whole day."

Calvin Gray finished his breakfast, smoked a cigarette as he scanned the morning paper, then he dressed himself with meticulous care.

Some men possess an effortless knack of commanding attention and inspiring courtesy. Calvin Gray was one of these. Before many moments, he was in the manager's office, explaining, suavely, "Now that I have introduced myself, I wish to thank you for taking care of me upon such short notice."

"It was the only space we had."

REPUDIATES HIS CONFESSION

Morey Admits Incest Charges. Denies Guilt in Court

MIXED PLEAS IN ROBBERIES

Seven Accused Men Arraigned Before Judge Becker

Otis Morey, 38, Spencer-ville farmer, whose confession wrung from his lips by county detectives, paved the way for his arrest for incest, has repudiated his story, Thursday.

When arraigned charged with the crime which led to the death of his sister, Otis, the brother repudiated and pleaded not guilty. His bond was fixed by Judge Fred C. Becker in the sum of $3,000. He will be tried on June 7.

Morey is able to give bond, it is stated, but may remain in jail, because of the sentiment he fears is aroused near his home by the alleged crime, officers say.

MOREY ADMITS GUILT
Floyd Mofford, 22, first of the ring of Spencer-ville five thieves, he arrested in the recent cleanup made by Sheriff Harvey Crosson, aided by National Agency sleuths, from Columbus, pleaded guilty to robbing the Landers garage. William Barnett is indicted on the same charge. He has not been arraigned.

Guy Roller, 49, fire dealer, implicated in confessions made by Mofford and others arrested in nearby counties was arraigned on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. He pleaded not guilty and will come to trial May 15. Bond was fixed in the sum of $1,000.

SECRET INDICTMENT
Roller was secretly indicted by the grand jury, which reported May 5. He was arrested at Spencer-ville Wednesday afternoon and brought to Lima.

Fred Brock and Elijah Jones, colored, pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons. C. W. Twining pleaded not guilty on an indictment for burglary and larceny. Bond was fixed at $500. Trial was set for May 28.

Twining pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny. Ralph Turner, a companion, indicted on the same charge, pleaded guilty. Bond was placed at $500, the accused to appear for trial, June 6.

The campaign for membership is under the chairmanship of R. R. Dunn, who has working under him a force of committees of various industries. J. E. Morton, manager of the Board, has spoken to members of the Kiwanis and Lions clubs and has used what a Kenton paper termed Wednesday, the "unvarnished truth" as a part of his campaign ammunition.

Chairman of the membership committee are, J. I. Motter, Dr. Oliver Steiner, Dr. C. N. Nye, Earl Ludwig, W. J. Fitzcerald, Minor Keltner, Dr. A. P. Stollenbach, George Mothman and C. P. Stollenbach.

WEATHERMAN IS IN BETTER MOOD

Winter's flareback has been given the skidoo sign.

The weatherman has relented and comes thru with predictions of further mild conditions, added to his forecast, for today, after a night of freezing cold which has doubtless wreaked considerable damage to fruit crops.

Increased cloudiness and warmer tonight and Friday, becoming unsettled in north portions.

That isn't to bad and there is every reason to believe that the May snow and freeze marks winter's last staggering stand. It's admitted that unreasonable conditions have upset a lot of calculations for outdoor work, but optimism remains strong and hope for better conditions never dies.

Gardening has been stopped, opening of buds has been halted and development of leaves has been at a standstill for several days. Winter frequently "lingers in the lap of spring," but when it comes to spring up shoot and snow and a genuine freeze in May, it's going a bit too far.

However, there's no way of preventing it. An injunction against weather vagaries cannot be obtained.

15 SCOUT TROOPS SEEN FOR LIMA

Regional Executive to Confer With Local Council

PLEASED WITH PERSONNEL

City Should Have 700 Boys Enrolled, Official Says

"Lima has every possibility for 15 registered Boy Scout troops this year," M. M. Ammonson, regional executive of the fourth district, declared Thursday.

Ammonson, who attended a conference at scout headquarters here with H. R. Simonson, president of the local council, and C. L. Conrad, scout executive, was enthusiastic in his praise of Lima's scout directing personnel.

"The regional office is well pleased with the personnel of Lima's Scout council and considers Conrad a find as scout executive," he said.

ONE SCOUT TO THREE BOYS
Lima has 2,250 boys of scout ages, Ammonson said, which should provide the city with at least 700 scouts. Every third boy a scout is the ratio expected of Lima by the regional office, he stated.

This basis of calculation will result in an eventual enrollment in Lima of 25 troops and is in line with the goal set by the regional office. This region consists of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Ammonson, who is in the city to address a meeting of scoutmasters Thursday evening, will soon return from active scout work. His position as regional executive will be filled temporarily by J. P. Freeman, who was scheduled to appear at the scout master's meeting but will be unable to attend.

CITY ANNEXATION PLEAS GRANTED

Two Tracts in East End Will be Taken in

ANOTHER MAY BE REJECTED

Protest Defers Action on West Side Petition

Two petitions of the city to annex territory on the east side were granted at a hearing before county commissioners Thursday and action on one to annex 160 acres in the west end was deferred until Friday, when it will probably be rejected, it is declared.

Owners of 80 acres in the west end filed protest asserting that city taxes would be imposed on them without benefits.

In the east end, the city's petition to annex one tract comprising the Fairgrounds and another south of the Fairgrounds near Kibbey-st. brought no protests.

An affidavit sworn to by C. H. Bogardus on behalf of owners of 30 acres in the tract bounded by Kibbey, Metcalf, Kibbey and the corporation line, declared that property in the section would receive no benefits by annexation.

CLAIM NO BENEFITS
The city is spending $2,100,000 on a sewer project, the cost of which is to be paid on the general tax duplicate, which would bring no benefits, according to the affidavit.

Furthermore, the affidavit set forth, it is improbable that streets in that section would be lighted, the city would be unable to pave any streets except at the owners' expense, sidewalks would not be constructed, streets would not be cleaned, the section would have practically no fire or police protection, great difficulty would be experienced in obtaining water and gas service and the nearest city school is one-half mile away across the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

County commissioners indicated the petition will be rejected and the city required to file a new petition to annex the territory not protested.

HEIRS ARE OFFERED HALF-MILLION

Five Lima Persons Among Claimants to Springer Land

PROFFER MADE AT CHICAGO

Descendants Meet to Plan Suit for Property

Settlement for $500,000,000 was offered to heirs of Charles Christopher Springer for their claims on land in and near Wilmington, Delaware, valued at a billion dollars, according to reports reaching Lima Thursday. The offer has not been accepted.

Springer's heirs met Wednesday in Chicago to plan suit against present holders of the land. Mrs. C. M. Chown, 113 S. Baxter-st., vice president of the Ohio organization of heirs, is at the meeting. About five other heirs reside in Lima.

More than 100 heirs met in Lima last week to discuss plans and receive information on the case. There are more than 200 heirs in Ohio, according to Mrs. Chown.

Immediate suit was to be instituted in Delaware courts, Mrs. Chown indicated, after final organization was perfected at Chicago.

WAS UNDER LEASE
The land claimed was leased for 99 years by Charles Christopher Springer, according to Mrs. Chown, with the provision that it should be returned to his heirs when the lease expired. This provision, Mrs. Chown said, was never carried out.

The land is now held, it is reported, by a Swedish church in Wilmington, and is rented to business firms. The rental has been turned over to a Wilmington trust company to await decision as to rightful ownership.

E. L. Duffont, powder king, recently appointed U. S. Senator from Delaware, is said to claim part of the land.

About $500,000,000 is on deposit in the trust company holding the rental, Mrs. Chown said.

HONEYMOON IS ENDED BY ARREST OF COUPLE

CINCINNATI — Confinement in police cells ended the honeymoon of Jacob Frazier, 25, Maria's Ferry, Ohio, and Miss Laura March, 27, Sellaire, Ohio.

The couple was arrested in the Way Hotel last night. Samuel Danfee, Belmont-st. sheriff, telegraphed local police a warrant charging bigamy was issued on complaint of Frazier's first wife at Martins Ferry.

Miss March told detectives she became acquainted with Frazier while riding in a bus he operated. She said she and Frazier eloped to St. Clairsville, last Friday, and showed a marriage license as proof they had been wed.

"I knew Frazier only six weeks when I got in love," Miss March said. "This will cause me a lot of notoriety, but I am innocent. Frazier knew my parents. I did not know he had a wife and child until the detectives talked to me."

TIRE STOLEN
A cord tire, 20 by 3-1/2, was stolen from Walter Hoffman's truck while parked at his home, 447 E. McKibben-st., Tuesday evening, he told police Wednesday. The tire was on a green rim.

CABLE TO RETURN

Flowers For Mothers' Day To Cost More

Price of carnations went up almost 100 per cent Thursday in all shops in Lima save one. Prices will be boosted in that shop Friday, it was learned.

Carnations which sell throughout the year for $1.25 per dozen, are now selling for $2.50 and $3.00 per dozen. Roses have also gone up, in anticipation of Mother's Day.

The Lima man who remembers his mother with a red carnation, or who wears a white carnation to honor her memory, will pay for it at the advanced price.

Local florists declare it is the growers who capitalize the nationwide observance of Mother's Day. The wholesaler also says the grower is the greedy one. But carnation prices are boosted nevertheless.

There seems to be no famine of flowers. Apparently every person who wishes to honor his mother's memory Sunday may do so.

MURPHY NORMAL, NEPHEW SAYS

Dr. J. T. Murphy is First Witness for Defense

POEM USED AS EVIDENCE

18 to 65 Subpoenaed for Plaintiff on Stand

Testimony for the plaintiff in the battle to break the will of Dr. John J. Murphy was concluded Thursday before Judge Fred C. Becker.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy, divorced wife of the decedent, was recalled to the stand as the last witness. Only 18 of the 65 witnesses subpoenaed by Mrs. Mary Murphy Edmonds, plaintiff in the action, were on the stand. Mrs. Edmonds is seeking to set aside the will and obtain a share of the estate.

Dr. J. T. Murphy, Toledo, nephew of the decedent, was the first witness to testify for the defendant, Mrs. Mabel Dunn Murphy.

Dr. Murphy declared that to his knowledge there has been no insanity in his family for three generations back.

His uncle was, in his opinion, capable of conducting business affairs at the time he made his will and to choose those who were to receive his bounty.

A poem written by Dr. John J. Murphy was placed in evidence Thursday. One poem was shown the nephew by plaintiff's counsel.

Dr. J. T. Murphy expressed the opinion that the verses were not as good as some his uncle had composed, but he added that he would like to be able to write lyrics of an equal quality.

"COUSINS ALL RIGHT"
The nephew declared he had no reason to believe that his cousins, Mrs. Edmonds and Mrs. Baughman, were not good girls.

He denied assertions made by Mrs. Baughman in her testimony that he had tried to prevent her viewing her father's body the day of the funeral.

According to Dr. Murphy, the younger, his uncle often went to Toledo to visit him. He usually saw him when he came, he said, and they frequently had long conversations on various matters, largely pertaining to art and literature.

He admitted that Dr. J. J. Murphy had aided him financially, but he added that he paid back the money.

Acts of cruelty alleged to have been committed by Dr. J. J. Murphy were related by witnesses for the plaintiff Wednesday. One witness stated that she saw Dr. Murphy pursuing Mrs. Edmonds with a buggy whip and lashing her with it. The same witness related that once while walking with Mrs. Margaret Murphy, Dr. Murphy and a woman described to be Mrs. Mabel Dunn Murphy, overtook them.

Dr. Murphy struck his former wife, the witness declared, blacking her eyes and knocking her to the ground.

ELIDA-LIMA ROAD TO BE SURFACED

Faulty Construction Admitted by County Commissioners

IS AFFECTED BY WEATHER

Highway Costing $16,000 a Mile in 1922 Going Bad

That it will be necessary to resurface the Lima-Elida road on the Harding Highway to remedy faults in construction was admitted Thursday by county commissioners, following an investigation made in company with officials of the state highway department.

The road was completed and thrown open to traffic late in 1922. It was built by McArthur & Co., of Kenton, under a contract let by the state highway department, at a cost approximating $16,000 a mile.

Commissioners and highway engineers who inspected the road Wednesday and Thursday found that the surface was rough and wavy, due to improper rolling during construction, they declare.

The surface is commencing to flake and chip, due to lack of penetration of the bituminous material used as a binder.

The road is built of two four-inch layers of water bound macadam base, with a three inch top of finer stone penetrated with a gallon and a half of oil which is sprayed on the surface in a molten condition, cooled rapidly and failed to penetrate.

FAILS OF PENETRATION
A large percentage of the top dressing or seal coat was applied late in the fall. The weather was cold and the oil which is sprayed on the surface in a molten condition cooled rapidly and failed to penetrate.

Money still due the contractor from the state will be held up, commissioners were assured Thursday and sufficient maintenance money added to it to resurface.

Holes in the road will be filled with new rock. A half gallon of oil or tar penetration will be applied to the entire road and the surface covered with stone chips or screenings.

The Elida-Lima section was part of Allen-co's 1922 road program. One-half the money for its construction was appropriated by the state and the remainder was raised by the county thru sale of bonds.

Commissioner J. W. Thompson declared Thursday that in his opinion the faults in the road will be made right by resurfacing.

The county, he said, will not be put to any additional expense.

CLEVELAND MAN RESCUES 7 CHILDREN FROM FIRE

CLEVELAND — After rousing members of four families occupying an apartment house when a blaze threatened destruction of the two-story frame building here early today, John Cracium made several trips into the burning structure, carried out seven of nine children rescued and broke in a door so one of the families could escape.

Cracium carried out five of his children, his wife rescuing their six months old baby. He also assisted Mrs. Anna Marian and her two children to safety.

The fire which drove the children and eight men and women into near freezing weather, apparently was caused by an overheated gas stove. The damage was estimated at $7,500.

THIEVES STRIP AUTOS

Two automobiles owned by S. R. Guy, 166 Perry-st, were stripped by thieves May 7, he reported to police Wednesday night. A spot light, tool bag, spark plugs, spark coil and an army overcoat with the letters "N. J. J." on the back were reported missing.

CAR DAMAGED

Harry DeWitt's automobile was damaged Wednesday night when a car driven by A. J. Baber, R. F. D. 4, ran into it while parking in the public square, police were told.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Adv.

FEELING 100 PER CENT BETTER

Aged Man Declares the Plant Juice Did Wonderful Work in His Case

WHAT HIS SYSTEM NEEDED

"I am 79 years of age but I feel a great deal younger since I have taken your Plant Juice and I am glad to recommend a medicine of such merit," said Mr. William Kinerk, of 716 Home avenue, Fort Wayne, Indiana, while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently.

MR. WILLIAM KINERK

Mr. Kinerk is well known at Fort Wayne, being a property owner and a member of Masonic Lodge No. 347. He is a veteran of the Civil War. Continuing, he said: "Your Plant Juice proved to be a preparation of great merit in my case. I have taken five bottles and the benefit it has given me has been wonderful."

"I had been suffering a great deal from stomach and kidney trouble. My stomach would fill up with gas and cause me great distress. I also had poor digestion. My kidneys were continually out of order so that I would have to get up out of bed several times each night."

"The first few doses of your Plant Juice seemed to be just what my system needed and since I have taken the five bottles I am feeling 100 per cent improved. Both my stomach and my kidneys seem to be normal now and by bowels are regular as clock-work. I am glad to endorse a medicine of such merit."

Plant Juice is a natural medicine made from medicinal roots, herbs and leaves which are gathered from the fields of nature. It seems to have a surprising effect upon the stomach, liver and kidneys and has given relief in several thousand cases in Lima and vicinity in just the past few months.

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is also sold in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office—Adv.

Service

"By its service you shall know it"—that is true of every merchandising establishment. It is one of the most astounding features of which the Sample Shop is justly proud. In our opinion, mere courtesy is not sufficient. We KNOW our customers! Each is an individual, whose particular wants and needs must be suited to HER satisfaction. That is why Sample Shop patrons return. They want to.

Merchandise

Not contented with the general method of buying and selling, the Sample Shop's buyer, Mr. Louis Swartz, is continually on the lookout for the unusual and distinctive. To do this thoroughly he must necessarily make several trips yearly to New York for the very latest in fashions and fabrics. That this form of service has met the needs of its patrons, is evidenced in the faith that customers place in the authenticity of every garment they purchase here.

Personally---

I have never anticipated with such enthusiasm a similar event. But the Sample Shop is planning a future that must by far exceed the records of the past. This premiere anniversary sale is the first step forward. I can truthfully say that never yet have such values been offered from these racks.

And I consider it timely during these ten days to retract any misunderstanding, or offense that may have occurred during these years, between any of the Shop's patrons and its salespeople or management. I want those patrons to be new friends of the new Sample Shop as it goes forward, and to move my sincerity I wish to personally meet them and give them my apology at any time they choose to attend.

12th Anniversary SALES

Begin Friday, May 11th, and continue for ten days--fresh offerings each day!

--BUT YESTERDAY--

A Point---

That is frequently overlooked by the feminine buying public of Lima is that the Sample Shop not only specializes in good quality low price apparel, but that, upon its shelves and racks hang some of the finest, most exclusive, and most elaborate, domestic and imported gowns, robes, wraps, blouses, etc. in the city.

This event is being held,—not only to offer a broadside of most remarkable values in lower priced apparel—but to display these truly wonderful garments that have been gathered from the finest markets of the world, at most astonishing price levels.

Not until this event commemorating the passing of the twelfth successful year since the Sample Shop was established, has its management paused to look back over its existence and express its appreciation in this manner. But here is a milestone! At this point the years of its building can be remembered as one day, for they have assured for it a future that justifies a celebration on this tremendous scale. The past twelve years are to be made history by this event—the next twelve a brilliant promise!

And so,—to materially show their appreciation, the management have decided at this time to divide their profits with you,—yes more than divide. The entire stock has been remarked to sensationally low levels that hover about the cost mark!

The first day of the sale, featuring the wonderful values listed below, will convince the women of Lima that this is one of the outstanding merchandising achievements that Lima has seen.

Doors open promptly at 8:30 tomorrow morning!

CROPS SET BACK BY COLD WAVE

Real Damage, However, in Ohio Expected to be Slight

LATE FRUIT BELIEVED SAFE

Frost and Ice in Many Parts of State

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—The cold wave which during the past few days has spread over Ohio has spent itself during the night. Frosts of various degrees have prevailed over most of the state and temperatures dropped in some localities to below zero. A temperature of 21 below was reported from Bellefontaine in a number of cases. The lowest registered below the zero mark.

The prediction of the weather bureau for warmer weather today was being fulfilled, and the clouds gradually rising to levels.

Damage was little today over most of the state. The weather was upon the fruit and other crops. The local authorities declared that it still was too early to get a report on the damage done to the state, they did not believe it would prove general or serious. In some localities where temperatures ranged lowest, however, early fruits might be somewhat affected, but the apple crop in general and all other fruits except the very early varieties, they said, would be only slightly damaged.

CROPS RETARDED

The fact that the late spring had retarded the buds from developing to the point usually reached at this time was said to be a factor in the damage. The loss of the fruit growers. Frosts in the main, however, were confined to the late buds, which most orchards are now on high ground. While the fruit damage from frost was not expected to be excessive, it was declared that the cold weather would considerably retard the progress of all crops and in some cases the high winds of Tuesday evening and yesterday did much damage. The onion fields suffered particularly, it was estimated that the loss would be at least an immediate loss of $100,000. The low temperature retarded the growth of the corn, which was observed on the trees this morning while streets and walks were covered with ice.

Following are temperatures in some Ohio cities:

Bellefontaine 27, Wilmington 28, Kenton 29, Circleville 29, Findlay 29, Bucyrus 30, Granville 30, Lima 31, Napoleon 31.

DR. EDWARDS' OLIVE TABLETS GET AT THE CAUSE AND REMOVE IT

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do what which calomel cannot do without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of calomel, sickening, purgative cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without any of the disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you can know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

17 ARE ARRESTED IN DRUG RAID AT TOLEDO

AKRON — In one of the biggest narcotic cleanups in Akron, federal agents, detectives and vice squad members arrested 17 men on charges of violating the Harrison narcotic act late Wednesday night. A series of raids were made on houses and soft drink parlors after federal agents at work in the city bought illicit drugs, police say. Those under arrest will probably be tried in federal court at Cleveland.

! sensitive

She was so sensitive she never could impress people with the personality she really had.

SHE was never really herself. She never did herself justice in a crowd. She wanted to be the center of things and she was clever enough to have been. Yet she lacked that sense of self-confidence—the poise that is so often the difference between popularity and social obscurity.

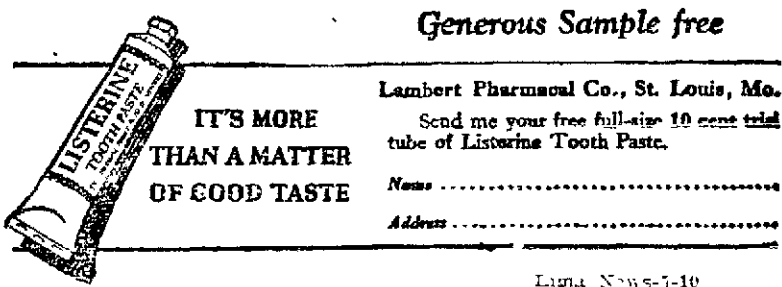

She did everything she could to overcome this uncomfortable feeling. She studied her clothes, her toilet, her speech. Yet it didn't help.

At last she discovered that it was her teeth she had unknowingly been most self-conscious about. Fastidious about everything else, she had neglected her teeth somewhat and their appearance showed it. You may be sure she did not neglect them after her discovery.

Only the right dentifrice—consistently used—will protect you against such criticism. Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. The first tube you buy (25 cents) or the free sample (see coupon) will prove this to you.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And, moreover, just as Listerine is the safe antiseptic, so Listerine Tooth Paste is the safe dentifrice. It cleans yet it cannot injure the enamel.

What are your teeth saying about you today?

Says Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced at Home

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice that anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription that many physicians are now prescribing. Ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it dissolves goitre and wens and causes them to disappear. It can be secured at any pharmacy.—Adv.

WELCH'S MARKET

On The Square in Every Way

Coming into Lima on the Pennsy—on January 24, 1923—the place didn't look so worse. And on coming down Main-st., filled up with nice looking buildings and up-to-date stores, says I, the Guy didn't lie when he told me that Lima was a good live town, for when you see a business street filled up with live, prosperous looking, up-to-date stores—the town is not a dead one. Next morning I got out to look around some—and 28-30 Public Square looked about the best bet in Lima—then I began tagging all the bases and on January 13th (for good luck) closed a lease for this building. We opened for business on February 15th, and in the three months past gone, we have not regretted locating here—as the town looks good to us—the people have responded nobly to our advertisements and have come back again and again—for they have found out that Welch's Market always gives value received. FIRE PREVENTION

THURSDAY, May 24, has been designated as "Fire Prevention Day" in Lima. It is an excellent idea, but the thought arises, why not make every day fire prevention day?

Civic organizations will lend their aid, there will be concerted action in carrying home forcibly to as many persons as possible the value exercising care and caution to prevent destructive flames. There is entirely too much loss to life and property by needless fires.

Carelessness is the biggest factor, perhaps, in the long list of causes of conflagrations. It is positively criminal for anyone to permit conditions to exist in a business house, a factory, an office, a school or a home that aggravate the danger of fire. Oily rags thrown into a closet or a corner are a deadly menace. Excelsior, old boards, paper or other inflammable material deposited carelessly affords food for fire losses.

Ashes deposited against wooden partitions in basements start any number of destructive fires. Householders use chimneys year after year, with no thought of having them inspected and crumbling mortar between the bricks replaced. Sparks find their way thru into attics and—then it's one more call for the fire department.

Experts in fire hazard hunting are to visit Lima on May 24. They will doubtless point out scores of cases where criminal carelessness exists. Perhaps the greater number of these conditions have previously been brought to the attention of the parties concerned by Fire Chief Mack. Procrastination has ruled. Nothing is done and the warning is soon forgotten.

If "Fire Prevention Day" will awaken any part of the citizenry of Lima to the fact that they have a part to play in preventing unnecessary fire calls and attendant losses, it will be worth all the time, effort and money required to put it over.

THE SUGAR INJUNCTION

DENIAL of the government's application for an injunction to stop gumming in sugar by a lower federal court will halt temporarily action designed to give relief to the public, which has been made the goat in the price boosts during the last several weeks. The case will not end with this adverse decision, but will be carried to the Supreme Court where final decision will be made.

While Attorney General Daugherty is meeting with reverses in his campaign against the sugar gougers, housewives throughout the country are scoring success with their boycott. They have succeeded in hammering the price down to a certain extent and the effect of their campaign is being felt.

When the women of the country decide they will adhere to sugarless recipes and will cut down to the minimum the amount ordinarily used, they are able to get a hearing. They are playing the game exactly opposite to what the gamblers want when they do this. Hoarding and heavy buying increase the demand and mean more millions in the pocket of the gougers.

Whatever the outcome of the government's action in this direction, the concerted action of housewives undoubtedly will have more influence if they continue their campaign.

YOU AND YOUR LIVER

BOOK critics need liver pills, an eastern publisher wrathfully foams.

We're not so sure about the critics, but on the average a lot of the troubles of most of us are due to lazy livers. The human intellect may be in the brain, but the liver has a lot to do with whether our minds are alert or drowsy.

Brilliant thinking, to considerable extent, is the result of proper functioning of bodily organs. Under normal conditions, the tendency of over-eating is to put the liver to sleep and befog the mind. The best thinking is done "on an empty stomach."

When you want your wits about you, eat lightly.

THE DUMBBELL THEORY

WERE a nation of dumbbells, a Chicago professor moans. To back himself up, he points to the intelligence tests conducted in the army during the war, "which show that only 12 per cent are of superior or very superior intelligence, while 24 per cent are very dull, feeble minded or on the border line. These tests present an accurate sample of the adult male mind."

Rot! These "intelligence tests" are 95 per cent bunk. They are based on a false premise, that alertness (fast thinking) is real intelligence. Socrates, slow thinker, couldn't pass a modern "intelligence test."

ABE MARTIN

"I did think some of advertising for a mail, but I hate to stay at home and answer the phone," said Mrs. E. P. Smith today, as she was taking a treatment for her spine. "He'd better let well enough alone," said Agriculturalist Jake Bentley when he heard President Martin had bought a farm.

(Copyright, 1923.)

In keenest zeal, to revive interest on the part of the furnace, which had quit for the year. And grumbled and groaned. Breakfasted on radishes and prunes, and out in goldfishes. To the post, whence came greetings from John E. Galvin, the steel king. Now happy and brave from his recent surgical experience. All the morning at this and that. And bothered much over delayed statements of facts.

Lunched well, on home cooking. And foot-taxed down with Charlie Lynch, the banker. Whose tale was that forty years ago, the last of this month. He shoveled snow paths to the front door. I was teething about that time.

Into Monsieur Horn's drugstore, for tooth paste. And never-out blades. Billy Jones can't trim himself to this day without drawing blood. Jim Dugan, the politician expert, who is soon to leave us. Doc Kniseley was to open the golf season with me today. But will go skating instead. If my salary had been $17.29 larger, I'd broken even in April. With a happy disposition and a wild desire. Success is sure in May. Unless housecleaning cleans me. Smile, you old grinch.

Albeit, since W. T. Grant moved to town, a rhapsodic greeting from the scratchophone makes pleasing rhythm. To editorial typewriters. Young Smith, the telegraph editor, edits all the Washington dispatches in Jazz. The Directors of Shawnee County Club will bar suspenders on men, and range on women, this year.

In the late afternoon, attended the lectures under the American Bank vaults. Thence, to the public library, to borrow a volume of Tennyson. And learn when Idylls was King. And of what nation. A young matron from Wapak, lunching at the Argonne, said she preferred Studebaker to Browning. Altho all her club friends were talking Browning this season.

Dined with the aristocrats and old families of West Market-st. At the Mikado. Putting up a brave and noble fight for creamed dried beef on toast, Kaiserfried potatoes, combination salad, and custard pie. Out, and about the town, albeit my wife, poor wretch, didn't want to see a movie.

So, early back to The Shack, reading Harper's Bazaar. About the trousseau and dots that fall to the French les jeunes epoux. Turned on the Vic for a number from Dvorak. Then late, to cheese sandwiches, and a grape juice highball. And so, to bed.

AT LEAST I DO DESPITE PROF. McCOLLUM

The cryptic title, friends refers to yesterday's sermon which was entitled "McCullum and I Agree." As duly inscribed and presented, we noted that wheat bran contains only the water soluble vitamins and lacks the other two essential vitamins—antirachitic and antiscorbutic factors. Whole wheat contains the water soluble antirachitic and the fat soluble antiscorbutic factors but lacks the antiscorbutic (scurvy preventing) factor. Germinated wheat contains all three vitamins. (I'm spelling vitamin with the final "e" because so many people do, and when one omits the final "e" from such words as vitamin, iodine, morphine and caffeine, some readers are confused and think one refers to another thing.) The scurvy preventing vitamin deficiency of the staff of life (assuming whole wheat bread is used) may be met by including in the daily ration a reasonably varied selection of greens or leafy vegetables or fresh fruits, and to a less extent by drinking daily not less than a pint of fresh milk or by eating cottage or Dutch cheese.

Nearly every fresh fruit juice and many such fruit juices cooked, and some canned by the vacuum process, will furnish the scurvy preventing vitamin, which is very important for the successful feeding of babies. Thus lemon juice, orange juice, raspberry juice, strawberry juice, peach juice, prune juice and tomato juice, may be relied upon in the feeding of infants.

As I have pointed out on occasions, there is no item in a whole-some bill of fare which more deserves the appellation of health food than raw cabbage, which contains all three essential vitamins in abundance, is very appetizing and a distinct aid to intestinal digestion, and is rich in calcium (lime) an element in which the average American diet is poor, at least in cities, besides a considerable amount of iodine and last and least important all the iron a human organism needs. That's enough to warrant serving cabbage two or three times a week, even without mentioning that it contains considerable phosphorus, silica, magnesium, sulphur, some manganese and even a trace of arsenic. The arsenic in cabbage need occasion no alarm. As a hanker, I can suggest nothing better than chewing some raw cabbage, a habit more healthful even than chewing raw potato, raw car-

Stop Laxatives

Which Only Aggravate Constipation

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowels to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication. Try it today.

BLESSINGS

By the blue that bends above us,
By the smiling friends who love us,
By the laughter of a baby
And the babbling of a brook;
By the glad June with their roses,
And each happy day which closes
With the prayers of little children
Everywhere God turns to look,
We are blessed in countless ways
Thru the number of our days.

By the hope which gilds tomorrow,
By the faith which sweetens sorrow,
By the beauty all around us
When the dawn of day is fair;
By the health which God hath lent us
For the tasks for which he sent us,
We are richly compensated
For the burdens we must bear;
And the tears of grief may fall,

God has blessed us, one and all,
By the glad smile of a neighbor,
By the joy of honest labor,
By the singing of the kettle
And the home where we may rest;
By the true friend standing by us
Thru the hours when burdens try us,
By uncounted little pleasures
All our lives are richly blessed;
Never year nor day nor minute
But holds something lovely in it.

FATHER had planned a brilliant future for him. Mother's high hopes for his success were supported ably by her everlasting faith in him.

But the boy was a bitter disappointment. He was being outdistanced steadily by his schoolmates, was dull, listless all the time, "felt sick" most of the time, never had "pep" for play nor ambition for his future.

Father had about given him up. Poor mother's heartstrings were nearing the breaking point. Evidently, it was not to be.

Then an old friend of the family—a man successful in every sense—came to the boy's rescue. Today, the father is proud of the boy who is indeed a joy to his mother.

It was simply a case of poor digestion, sluggish liver and constipation gradually dulling the senses and poisoning the system.

Knowing from experience that Beeciam's Pills were harmless as well as efficient, the old friend suggested them. They made the boy well—as they have hosts of other children, and grown-ups, too, who suffered from like disorders.

"Smudge" Is Romance of Orange Groves

A ROMANCE of the orange groves of southern California will be shown on the screen of the Sigma Theatre next week. Its title is "Smudge," with Charles Ray in the starring role.

As Stephen Stanton, a young and poppy college graduate, Ray has a peculiarly appropriate role and the picture is one of the best in which the star has ever appeared. The story was written by Rob Wagner famous for his motion picture artistry in the Saturday Evening Post, and the cast includes Ora Carew, Charles K. French, Florence Oberly, J. P. Lockney, Blanche Rose, Lloyd Bacon and Ralph McCollough.

Mrs. Carew plays opposite Ray, this being the first time that she has appeared as his leading lady.

The scenes are laid in the little town of Citrona, which is located in southern California and which is the center of the orange and lemon industry. The camera has caught vast vistas of orange groves giving the production a pictorial background of great beauty.

Upon returning home from college Stephen is presented by his father with the Citizen, one of the two daily newspapers of Citrona, and he immediately finds himself the center of a seething vortex of politics.

In a week Stephen is the most popular man in town—with all but one girl. While she belongs to the ranks of the enemy she goes to his aid and helps him to become the hero of Citrona. But there is plenty of trouble for both before the happy ending is reached.

"It's a Boy" More Than a Play

"IT'S A BOY" the play in which Hawkins and Ball will present their stock company, at the Faurot Opera House commencing Sunday matinee is one of the recent and exceptional New York comedy-drama successes. It is described by New York critics as being more than a play. In fact it is a page taken from the life of the average young man and woman starting out.

Of course there's a boy in the story. It's only a few hours old when the play starts, but it serves to set the Blake family on its mettle. Dad begins to think about extending his "five and ten cent" store into one of a chain.

Mother opens her eyes, shuts them tightly and sees New York as their future home. The arrival of Peabody, head of a big syndicate which desires to secure the Blake stores, assaults mother in making the dream come true. In addition to providing hundreds of big wholesome laughs, "It's a Boy" shows a deal of observation about the life of today. It throws the focus of the glass on the shallowness and falsehood of certain phases of big city existence. It clearly points out the right place to bring up a family as far away from the roar of the "L" and the unwholesome air of the subway as possible. William Anthony McGuire, author of the play knows that side of New York he portrays in his comedy.

Seats will go on sale tomorrow morning for the opening. One performance will be given nightly at 8:15 and matinees every Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30.

"Lightnin'" Pleases Capacity Audience at Faurot

ONE of the best productions of the season was presented at the Faurot Opera House last night when "Lightnin'" the Smithson production which broke the world's record, opened to a capacity house. Humor and pathos are intermingled through the plot resulting in a well balanced comedy drama.

The success of "Lightnin'" is due largely to the lovable eccentricities of its outstanding character Lightnin' Bill Jones but it also possesses the same elements of humor and mellow romance which have distinguished other Smith plays.

Most of the action takes place in the little hotel on the California-Nevada border owned by Lightnin' and his wife and which is a mecca for unfortunate wives seeking Reno divorces. A gang of crooks attempt to seize the hotel property but the plot is foiled by Lightnin' and his young friend John Marvin, who is in love with Mildred Buckley, adopted daughter of the Joneses.

The climax is reached in the courtroom scene which is ranked with classics in its blending of laughs and heart throbs. Lightnin' is responsible for the happy ending when he engineers an understanding between Marvin and Mildred.

Milton Nobles is splendid in the role of Lightnin' Bill Jones. Stuart Fox, Barney Gilmore, Sarah Elizabeth Reynolds, Dolly W. Nobles and Nydia Westman have the principal roles in the excellent supporting cast.

"Lightnin'" will appear again tonight at the Faurot.

"Follies" Offers a Change of Program Today

NEW specialties will be offered tonight at the Orpheum theatre by the Leonard Sisters, Lindine Wells, Verda Gath, the Anderson Brothers and Gerald Rink when the second edition of the "Lima Follies of 1923" will be staged.

The "Follies" composed entirely of local people is an excellent entertainment bill and the settings and costumes as elaborate as any large musical show.

The "Follies" will hold the boards until Saturday night. On Sunday there will be five Metropolitan acts of vaudeville selected from the Shubert, Pantages, and Loew vaudeville circuits.

The summer policy of the Orpheum which will be in effect after this week will be three performances of vaudeville on Sunday only. The house will be dark during the week.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

WOULD the young readers of this column, those between the ages of 16 and 25 years of age, who feel they have been rather unfortunate in making their friends, be interested in organizing a club, which would in some ways be like the Friendly club? Over 50 per cent of the letters I receive daily are inquiries from young men asking me to send to them names of young girls, and vice-versa. I feel that I cannot take the responsibility of introducing these young people unless letters to me are accompanied by reference. For some time I have been thinking of what the organization of a club would mean to the young people and have been rather dubious about whether the idea would be enthusiastically received by the young men and women. However, when I received "Miss Columbine's" letter, I decided to publish it and let the other young people send in opinions and suggestions concerning such a club and I will publish them. The Friendly club is mostly made up of men and women of middle age and I feel that rather than have the young people meet with the older ones, it would be more successful to have a separate club.

At the same time, you write your opinion of such a club organization, only the initials will be published in the paper with your letter.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a constant reader of your delightful column and enjoy it very much. I am nearly 17 years of age, full of vim and can dance, you know.

I am similar to "E." wondering if there are any fellows really worth while. I do not mean the "sheik" type which is so common today, but some fellow who has good sense enough to appreciate a respectable girl as a companion or girl. I do not run around much. Most of my time is devoted to reading or study. I thought I could content myself with a good book and cozy chair, but as much as I love reading, it becomes monotonous. Do not get the impression that I am "old maidish," for I am certainly not. I believe in a good time but not a "let alone" club for lonely young people?

COLUMBINE.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a girl about 17 years old. I would like to work this summer to pay my way thru summer school. I know that I cannot get employment at a store, because they would want me all day and not just part, you see. I could only work part of the day, on account of summer school.

I wonder if I might get a place taking care of small children or doing housework. I love children and I have had quite a bit of experience in that line.

I will thank you very much if you can help me.

"PEGGY O'NEILL."

I think your plan of getting work as a nursemaid or governess throughout the summer is a good one. I suggest that you place an ad in The Lima News, stating the work you wish and your qualifications.

that had precisely the effect of a deliberate wink, and Mr. Haviland smiled and nodded his complete comprehension.

"I get you," said he. "And you're right. The lease hounds would devil you to death if you gave them a chance. Now then, if there's any way in which I can be of service—"

"There is," Gray's tone was at once businesslike. "Please give me the names of your leading bankers. I mean the strongest and the most discreet."

During the next few minutes Gray received and swiftly tabulated in his mind a deal of inside information usually denied to the average stranger.

Gray appeared to know exactly what he wanted to do, for he topped at the telephone booths, inquired the number of the leading afternoon newspaper, and put in a call for it. When it came thru he asked for the city editor. He closed his sound-proof door before voicing his message, then he began:

"City editor? Well, I'm from the Ajax Hotel, and I have a tip for you. I'm one of the room clerks. Listen! Calvin Gray, is registered here—got in last night, on guns."

"You don't? Well, other people know him. He's a character—globe trotter, soldier of fortune, financier. He's been everywhere and done everything, and you can get a great story if you've got a man clever enough to make him talk. But he won't loosen easily."

"Oh, I suppose, but— . . . Under cover. Mystery stuff. Another big syndicate probably. Oh, that's all right. I'm an old newspaper man myself. Don't mention it."

Into the largest and newest of the buildings Gray went, a white tie and stove pipe, the entire floor of which was devoted to a pressive banking room. He sent his card in to the president, and spent perhaps ten minutes with that gentleman. He had called merely to get acquainted, so he explained.

Before he left the bank Gray had met the other officers, and from their manner he saw that he had created a decided impression upon them. The bank president himself walked with him to the marble railing, then said:

"I'd like to have you wait and meet my son, Lieutenant Roswell. He's just back from overseas, and—the boy served with some distinction. A father's pride, you understand?"

"Was Lieutenant Roswell in France?" Gray inquired, quickly.

"Oh yes. He'll be in at any minute."

A shadow of regret crossed the father's face. "I'm sorry, but I've trained to call on the mayor, and I've no time to lose. What unit was your son with?"

"The Ninety-eighth Field Artillery."

The shadow fled. Mr. Gray was exact at the necessity for haste, but he would look forward to meeting the young hero later.

Gray's fingers strayed to the mail change in his trousers pocket and he turned looking eyes back toward the bank interior. Without doubt it was a temptation, especially inasmuch as at that moment his well-manicured right hand held in its grasp every cent that he possessed.

CHAPTER II

Gray Meets a friend

The representative of the Dallas Post had anticipated some difficulty in interviewing the elusive Calvin Gray—whoever he might be—but luck appeared to be with him, for shortly after his arrival at the hotel the object of his quest appeared. Mr. Gray was annoyed at being discovered; he was, in fact, loath to acknowledge his identity. Usually Mr. Gray's secretary saw interviewers. However, now that his identity was known, he had not the heart to be discourteous to a fellow journalist. Yes! He had once owned a newspaper—in Alaska. Incidentally, it was the farthest-north publication in the world.

Alaska was a hard country, quite so, but nothing like Mexico during the revolution. Mexican sugar and mahogany, it transpired, had occupied Mr. Gray's attention for a time, as had Argentine cattle, Yucatan henequen, and an engineering enterprise in Bolivia, not to mention other investments closer to home.

Once the speaker had become reconciled to the distasteful necessity of talking about himself, he suggested an adjournment to his rooms, where he would perhaps suffer less embarrassment by reason of his unavoidable use of the personal pronoun.

Gray noted the effect upon his visitor of the Governor's suite and soon had the young man at ease, with a Corona between his teeth. Then followed a full three-quarters of an hour, during which the visitor discoursed in his very best style and his caller sat spellbound.

Gray called at several other banks that morning. He strode in swiftly, introduced himself with quick incisiveness, and tarried only long enough to fix himself indelibly in the minds of those he had come to see, then he left. On the street his long legs covered the ground at something less than a run, his eyes were keenly alert, his face set in purposeful lines. Pedestrians turned to look after him.

At the mayor's office he was denied admission to the chief executive, but insisted so peremptorily as to gain his end. The call ended by the two men lunching together at the City Club, as Gray had assumed it would, and he took pains that the bankers upon whom he had called earlier in the morning should see him in company with the mayor.

I don't know how long I was lying on the bed, little Marquise, after I had closed the door on Jack. I only know that it seemed as tho my heart would be torn apart with my sobs.

Pretty soon I heard a tapping on the bedroom door and Jack called, "Leslie." I did not answer.

A louder tapping and a louder voice, "Leslie."

"Then I did not answer."

"Don't be a fool, Leslie. Open the door."

Slowly I rose to my feet and went into the bathroom and tried to take some of the tear stains from my face. My eyes were almost swollen shut.

I didn't want to go to him. I didn't want to go to my own husband. I didn't want to make up. I just wanted to go home to my mother.

I never would have left her had I known marriage was to be like this. Here I had done my very best. I had made a beautiful home for the man I had married; a man who before the wedding had showered me with the most expensive entertainment of all kinds and who was now very angry because I had put a little more money into something which was to make us both more comfortable than he had expected.

Like a dog in the manger he would neither help me to fit out the apartment nor be satisfied with it when I had finished.

Again Jack was knocking, this time so loud that I was afraid the people in the other apartments on either side would hear him. Quickly I went to the door and opened it.

"Leslie, I'm sorry," he said. "I ought to have remembered all the things you told me. I ought to have understood that that money was for us to pay rent."

"It is a beautiful place, but I was so in hopes that we could use some of that money to make a payment on this stock and fifteen hundred dollars a year is too much for us to pay for rent.

"I never realized it would cost so much more for two people to live than for one. I wish I had hold of that liar who has spoken to the contrary."

Then he laughed, took me into his arms and whispered with his mouth close to my ear, "I do love you, little girl, and I know I am hard to live with."

"I presume I will break your heart many times, but I don't mean to, dear. I don't mean to hurt you. I wouldn't trade you off for a million of those economical girls you described to me."

"You know, however, that when a man has plans for other things and sees these plans dashed, he just has to get the rage and disappointment out of his system. The one who is nearest him then, whether it be his wife, his stenographer, his best friend or his brother; that's the person that has to play martyr while he applies the modern tortures of the inquisition."

In the meantime he had picked

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — William Caton, who for 15 years was in absolute charge of the imperial stables of Russia and master of horses under Czar Nicholas II, will drive Forest Park stable during this summer on the Grand Circuit.

Caton has had charge of Forest Park stables, owned by Paul Kuhn, Terre Haute horse fancier, since he returned to the United States several years ago after a revolution broke out in Russia.

Caton lost almost all his personal belongings at the outbreak of the revolution. He managed to bring home a watch, bearing the Russian coat of arms, given to him personally by the czar before the latter's death, for winning a national derby in Russia.

Caton, while in Russia, was in charge of 500 race horses and 2,000 other thoroughbreds. In the Russian government stables, he went to Russia following the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893 when he was 16 years old at the repeated requests of Russian nobility.

Caton was born on Forest City farm in Cleveland, Ohio, which is now the North Randall race track.

When the Russian revolution broke out he was forced to work three years for the government. He managed to escape and made his way to Constantinople and from there went to England. He managed to get his wife and family out of Russia before the revolution became serious.

In explaining how he came to take up horse racing, Caton said that for five generations back his people were all horse lovers. He expects the Caton name to be held up as a race horse drivers thru his younger son.

Caton, in planning his entries for the Grand Circuit, which opens at Cleveland the first week in July, is depending on Frisco June to lead the stables. Frisco June holds the world's record in the three-year-old classics. Incidentally his record for the one-mile track is 2:01 1-1.

Twelve other horses, whose sires are expected to assist in the quest of Carols for Forest Park stables.

William Donahue, known thruout the world as one of the old-time horse trainers, will be left in charge of Forest Park stables this summer, take up horse racing, Caton said to get colts in shape for the 1924 season.

Athletics Lose In Pinch

The Philadelphia Athletics lost a chance to step on the heels of Cleveland and Detroit in the American League Wednesday by losing to the St. Louis Browns while freakish weather kept the Yanks, Indians and Tigers idle. In addition to all the second division clubs except the Browns. St. Louis won 10 to 5.

The cold snap that prevented continuation of the series between the Yanks and Indians at Cleveland, severed Johnny Wright, infielder, from Miller Huggins' staff. He was sent to Shreveport La., for more seasoning.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the world champion Giants, coming from behind to take the sixth game that McGraw's men have lost this year. The score was 9 to 6. St. Louis advanced within half a game of second place by battering four Quaker fingers for nine hits to win 9 to 7. The defeat gave Philadelphia sole occupancy of the National League cellar. The Brooklyn Robins advancing half a game thru idleness.

Rain prevented the Brooklyn-Pittsburgh, Cincinnati-Boston games.

—Ohio Wholesale Grocers Association in a sweeping denial to the federal trade commission denies that the organization or its members contributed to high prices in Ohio in 1919 and 1920 as alleged by the commission in a recent citation which carried a guarantee against a price decline conspiracy.The grocers in turn, accuse the federal government itself of responsibility for high prices by:First—chequering off money by issuance of bonds in unprecedented amounts and the inflation of the currency thru issuance of enormously large amounts of paper money.Second—direct and indirect destruction of property.Third—purchase by the government at fabulous prices of all kinds of commodities.Fourth—excessive loans at low interest
